"The purpose of education for all children is the same – the goals are the same but the help that individual children need in progressing towards them will be different." (The Warnock Report 1978) This forms the basis of our Special Educational Need and Disability Policy.

DEFINITION OF SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL & DISABILITY NEED

Children with special educational needs and / or disabilities have difficulties that call for special provision to be made. This provision may be required throughout their schooling or may be temporary.

Children with SEND may:

- have significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of children of the same age;
- have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities that are provided for children of the same age.

Special educational provision means educational provision, which is additional to, or different from, the provision made generally for children of the same age in a mainstream school. (xiii, xiv Code of Practice Jan 2015)

The broad areas of need identified in the Code of Practice are:

Communication and Interaction	Children with speech, language and communication needs and may have difficulty in communicating with others.
Cognition and Learning	Support for learning difficulties may be required when children learn at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation.
Social, Emotional and Mental Health	Children may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways.
Sensory and/or Physical	Some children require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities generally provided.

PROCEDURE

In order for a child to be classed as having a special educational need, a specific process must first be followed.

- When a child is first identified as making slow or inadequate progress, high quality first teaching must be used to respond to the child.
- If quality first teaching has not enabled the child to make adequate progress, the child will be given extra support from an adult or specialised resources will be introduced. At this point, staff members involved in supporting the child, must make regular assessments and ensure they include parent/carer and pupil views.
- If the child still continues to make inadequate progress, the class teacher, along with the SENCO, will assess whether or not they feel the child has a significant learning need. At this point, the child would be identified as having a special educational need and this would be discussed with the parent/carer.
- The support and intervention of a child identified as having special educational need will be recorded on a Grow, Blossom and Flourish IPM (Individual Provision Map)
- Once a child is identified as having a special educational need, a 'graduated approach' must be followed to ensure that regular, effective assessment is carried out:

Assess: This will provide both the class teacher and SENCO with a clear understanding of the area of need. Views of parents/carers and pupils can also be sought at this stage. Trends in learning needs should be noted and quality first teaching should be adjusted to try to support progress. At this point specialist assessments from agencies such as the Inclusive Education Service or Educational Psychologists can be sought.

Plan: At this point parents/carers MUST be notified and consulted. This will include the support being given, targets to be set, expected impact and a date for review. Interventions being used should be evidence based.

Do: Class teachers remain responsible for working with the child on a daily basis and should be planning and assessing support being given. The SENCO will provide the class teacher with support in assessing and advising on the impact of support being provided.

Review: Effectiveness of support and impact should be evaluated by an agreed date. Parent and pupil views must be sought when analysing the impact of support. The class teacher should then work alongside the SENCO to revise support in light of progress/development made by child. This is discussed at SEND Flourishing meetings. These revised outcomes will then be agreed with parents/carers and pupils.

Education, Health and Care Assessment Request (EHCARs)

<https://www.northyorks.gov.uk/education-health-and-care-plans>

Once a child is identified as having special educational needs, regular meetings between the class teacher and SENCO will progress. If after evidence-based intervention and support from external agencies, the child continues to make little or no progress, statutory assessment may be sought. This will require the class teacher and / or the SENCO, to meet with the parent(s) to complete an EHCAR form. This form combines information from school, health and care and other professionals where necessary and focuses on where we want the child to be, and what their difficulties are. This will be submitted to the Local Authority and a decision will be made about the support required and additional funding to be allocated based on the information provided. If the Local Authority decides that the child does require additional funding to support their learning an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) will be issued and reviewed on a yearly basis. Regular assessment and review of progress will continue to be carried out in school by the class teacher and SENCO.

The Local Offer – North Yorkshire County Council

Local authorities publish a Local Offer, setting out in one place information about provision they expect to be available across education, health and social care for children and young people in their area who have special educational needs or disabilities, including those who do not have Education, Health and Care (EHC) Plans. North Yorkshire County Council publish their local offer on: <https://www.northyorks.gov.uk/send-local-offer>

SAFEGUARDING CHILDREN WITH SEND

Please see the school Safeguarding Policy and statutory guidance including but not exclusively:

- Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE), September 2021
- Working Together to Safeguard Children, July 2018
- Supporting Pupils at School with Medical Conditions, December 2015

All staff and governors are aware that children with SEND, can face additional safeguarding challenges with respect to recognising and disclosing abuse. We are committed to ensuring that all children have the same protection, regardless of any barriers they may face.

Additional barriers can exist when recognising abuse and neglect in this group of children. These can include:

- assumptions that indicators of possible abuse such as behaviour, mood and injury relate to the child’s condition without further exploration.
- these children being more prone to peer group isolation or bullying (including prejudice-based bullying) than other children.
- the potential for children with SEND or certain medical conditions being disproportionately impacted by behaviours such as bullying, without outwardly showing any signs
- communication barriers and difficulties in managing or reporting these challenges

We also recognise that children with disabilities may have regular contact with a wide network of carers and other adults for practical assistance in daily living including personal intimate care, hence we are mindful that such situations can increase the opportunity for an abusive adult to be alone with a child

Additional or different pastoral support and attention for SEND children may be required, along with ensuring any appropriate support for communication is in place. The additional support is personalised to meet the child’s individual needs but may include additional pastoral time or Communication and Interaction Provision.

The Curriculum

All our children are taught about safeguarding, including online safety, however we recognise a more personalised and contextualised approach for more vulnerable children, and some SEND children might be needed. Differentiated resources, social stories and alternative communication methods may be required. Personalised and contextualised support may also be necessary to support SEND pupils, understand in a stage-appropriate way, online risks for example, from online bullying, grooming and radicalisation.

Positive Handling

At All Saints, Kirkby Overblow and North Rigton School staff are trained and supported in reducing the occurrence of behaviours that present risks that require positive handling and recognise the additional vulnerability of children with SEND. Positive and proactive individualised behaviour support strategies are planned with pupils and parents and carers; at All Saints, Kirkby Overblow and North Rigton these include therapeutic approaches for individuals, de-escalation plans including learning to scale emotions, ELSA (Emotional Literacy Support Assistant) and Mental Health First Aider pastoral support and 1:1 SEND support. All incidents of handling are recorded, discussed with parents and reviewed to inform future practice. (Also see Behaviour Policy, and Intimate Care Procedures)

Education at home

We recognise the recommendation in KCSIE regarding the importance of meeting with parents and Local Authority representatives where a parent/carer has expressed their intention to remove a child from school with a view to educating at home, which is particularly important where a child has SEND.

Safeguarding Leadership and SEND

All staff aware of the Designated Safeguarding Leads (DSLs) in school and the procedure for reporting safeguarding concerns. DSLs are alert to the additional safeguarding needs of children with SEND and liaise with the SENCO to support individuals.
