KIRKBY OVERBLOW

BULLETIN - 10th March 2023

It has been another busy week at All Saints with some fantastic learning taking place in all classes and just when we thought spring was approaching, along came THE SNOW! Have a wonderful weekend everyone.

BABY AND TODDLER GROUP

An incredible turn out at our first messy play! We had so much fun and will definitely be doing another one in the summer term! If you know anybody that would like to attend our baby and toddler group on a Wednesday morning please invite them and share the links on Facebook and Instagram

Children from Reception and Year 1 visited Vida Care home on Thursday afternoon to entertain and play with the residents. Look out for photographs coming soon on Instagram.

BRITISH SCIENCE WEEK

On Tuesday we will be celebrating British Science Week with a whole school focus on the book 'The Most Important Animal of All'. Following a day of activities, each class will be presenting their argument to the whole school for why their animal is the most important. We would like to invite parents to view the displays of our work in the hall after school on Tuesday and to vote for which animal you think is the most important.

SCIENCE COMPETITION

The competition involves designing a poster or fact file about your favourite Scientist. You may choose a Scientist from the past or one from the modern day. Don't forget to make it eye catching and include why your chosen scientist inspires you! The winners from the competition will have the opportunity to take part in a special event linked to the Ogden Trust School group. Last year's winners enjoyed a fun morning full of exciting science experiments with competition winners from the other schools and also a Science Activity book to keep! If you would like to take part, please hand your poster to your class teacher before next Friday (17th March). Please make sure it has your name and age on it.
